So now and for ever,
With honour and pleasure,
May praise be our Generals' due:
We'll fight for our King,
And wish all may swing
Who don't to their country prove true.

Young HARRY.

INCE we went out a Maying to late can I find,

So Young Harry has run Day and Night in my Mind,

He's grown so bewitching as never before,

For I find that I love him each Time more and more.

Each Morning his Face with what pleasure I see, Not my own in the Glass is so handsome to me, Im so vex'd I could cry when his Visit is o'er, Nor help if I wou'd, but must love more and more.

C.

He'd have me to fing to him all the Day long, and fays mine's as fweet as the Nightingale's Song; such praises as these I had never before, Im sure that he loves me, tho him I love more.

When my Mother was gone with refiftless a look, be begg'd for one Kiss, but how many he took;

sk'd why so free, who was ne'er so before;
blush'd, and then promis'd to do so mo more.

How I wish'd the dear Shepherd for Life were all min I shou'd have no Occasion to chide or to pine; Then Harry my Lips may with Kiss s run o'er, And I'll try if it can't be to love him still more.

FINIS.
